No flag but the Old Flag—the Red, White and Blue,
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true!
Arise and defend it! ye sons of the brave,
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save

MONDAY MORNING, AUG. 31, 1863.

By Telegraph.

The progress of the siege at Charleston, even according to rebel reports, is highly favorable—the demand for surrender, and the threat of shelling the city of sin—the national Sodom—seems to have provoked the grievous wrath of Beauregard, who evidently thinks it very impertinent and insolent for Yankees to be throwing shot and shell within the sacred flowery borders of South Carolina. We hope he has become accustomed to it by this time, and even been compelled to follow the example of Pemberton and Gardner.

The cruel slaughter of the people of Lawrence is a double crime—infamous on the part of the vile murderers, and disgracefully imbecile on the part of those whose duty it was to hinder the possibility of such a terrible massacre.

The most important thing in the dispatch however, is the confession now made by rebel organs in Richmond, that it is impossible to resist the power of the Government unless aided by foreign intervention, or by what is called Democratic sympathy at the North. The South is ready to trade with France, to whom it can give an equivalent for its support, or it begs succor from villains like Vallandigham, Fernando Wood, and their supporters, to whom it can promise nothing but "assurances of distinguished consideration," and by sympathy in their efforts to weaken the strength of the Government. How are the mighty fallen! There is no more boasting of Southern chivalry,—no more threats of calling rolls of slaves under the shadow of Bunker Hill Monument! It is only the cry of despair—"help us or we sink"—all hope of relief from England is abandoned; it is only France and Confederates in the North who can be safely appealed to, and whatever the first may do, we think the last received their death blow when the riots in New York and Boston were quelled.

Dried Fruit.

The California papers are urging upon the people of that State, the wisdom of drying fruit for market, at the present prices, which profuse abundance makes so low. It is stated that thousands of baskets of peaches, plums, pears, apricots, etc., are allowed to perish for want of purchasers, even at a price to cover the expense of marketing, let alone paying for the fruit. For instance, plums of choice Greengage and other varieties cannot be sold in large quantities at even 1@2c per pound, yet if the growers would cut them open, drop out the stone and dry the fruit, it would within six months sell for 15@20c per pound, and perhaps more. It is astonishing to see the waste of good fruit in California, and in a community where there are so many idle men anxious to work. Even in San Francisco, were parties of small means to buy a hundred or more baskets of plums, for fifty or seventy-five cents each, and dry them, they would surely reap a rich reward for their labor. Few have any conception of the amount of dried fruit consumed in this country, the great bulk of which comes from New York or Boston. This year there would be an abundance, if there was proper economy and care to save it from perishing. Tons of fruit and vegetables are absolutely thrown away every day upon the wharves and from the markets, all of which are valuable, and were any thought given to the subject by men who are less honorably employed, and who are living upon charity, or otherwise eking out a miserable livelihood, it would not be so. Large quantities of dried apples and peaches have been brought across the Isthmus this year, at an expense of five cents per pound, and even now there are at least one hundred packages of peaches due on the next steamer. Jobbers say they are good property even at the high freight. For weeks past, the receipt of peaches in San Francisco, has averaged 1000 baskets a day, selling at two to four cents a pound. Is it not time for fruit growers to learn wisdom? What is true in California is equally true—even more so—in Oregon. Our farmers can, if disposed, increase the wealth of the State hundreds of thousands of dollars, and though the profit to individuals may seem trifling, is not the experiment worth making? Almost every vessel brings dried fruit here, which was put up in the East, and was paid a profit to the producer, the shipper and the dealer, while our farmers allow fruit just as good to go to decay in their orchards. Is not this very foolish policy, and sure to lead to weakness and prostration?

Agricultural Fair.—We learn from the Democrat that the sixth annual fair of the Linn County Agricultural Society will be held at Boston, on Wednesday and Thursday next.

Served Him Right.—General Carey in a speech made to the Indiana soldiers the other day, told of a neighbor of his, who, when Morgan's troops were passing, hurrahed for Vallandigham. He was approached by one of the rebels, who said to him: "You are one of the Southern sympathizers, ain't you?" "I am a Vallandigham man—a peace man." "Well, that's what I mean. Have you any horses?" Yes, he had. "Well, we want our friends to help us now, so we will take your horses;" and they did take them.

Memphis, August 23.—Gen. Herbert started an expedition from La Grange, Tennessee, on the 13th, under the command of Lieut. Colonel Philips, of the 19th Illinois mounted infantry, which reached Grenada on the 17th, driving Gen. Sherman (rebel) with 2,000 men and three pieces of artillery from that place. They destroyed 57 locomotives and upwards of 400 cars, depot building, machine and blacksmith shops. A large quantity of ordnance and stores were captured, together with 50 railroad men and quite a number of other prisoners.

New York, August 24.—A Morris Island letter dated August 19th, states that Gen. Gilmore's batteries continued firing, and the walls of Sumter were gradually crumbling to ruins. The rebel flag was shot away on the 18th, but was replaced. Violent storms raged on the 18th. The parapet of the Fort is completely demolished, and the abutments at the south-east angle mostly torn away. Breaches have been made through which our projectiles fly, crashing against the opposite walls.

Deserters say that the effect on Sumter is terrible, and that four men were killed and six wounded in Fort Wagner on Monday. The rebel batteries on James' Island continue a heavy fire, but without much damage.

Richmond papers of the 19th, say that the bombardment of yesterday was more furious than that of previous days. The Ironsides, six monitors and six gunboats, with the enemy's land batteries, opened on Wagner at daybreak, throwing 20 shells per minute at our works. This continued until 11 o'clock, when the fleet and land batteries turned their attention to Sumter. The Ironsides and six monitors approached within three-fourths of a mile of the Fort, battering heavily against the south face. Sumter replied vigorously with her barbette guns. The contest lasted about seven hours, when the fleet, having been hit a number of times, stood off out of reach, with a flag at half mast.

Stephenson, Ala., August 22.—Wilder crossed the Tennessee river last evening and burned a small railroad bridge near Shell Mound, thus severing communication between the rebel right and left. In view of the impracticability of common roads, this movement is an important affair. We also secured a ferryboat and two barges, and brought them to this side.

The advance of the Army of the Cumberland was before Chattanooga August 21st, and opened fire on the city. During the forenoon the enemy replied from nineteen guns, mostly small, doing little damage. Our fire was very destructive, and every battery which opened fire on us was silenced, or disabled. The enemy's works on the river are said to be very strong, with parapets no less than fifteen feet wide, and several water batteries on line with the river. Discovered one steamboat moored in front of the city, and destroyed her and disabled another. An attempt to destroy a pontoon bridge of forty seven boats was frustrated by rebel sharp shooters. It is reported that there are two rebel divisions in the city, and one on the railroad toward Bridgeport.

Contrabands report that Johnston has arrived and superceded Bragg. Many paroled men from Pemberton's army are coming into our lines. They say his command can never be got together again. The rebel right and left cannot co-operate because of the impracticability of the roads.

Cairo, August 24.—Latest advices from Gen. Steele's Arkansas expedition say that his headquarters would be at Clarendon, on White river, on the 17th of August. Small parties of guerrillas were constantly hovering around our flanks and rear. Gunboats had ascended Little Rock river, as far as Searcy, taking two rebel steamers, both in good order. At Searcy a rebel battery was found and silenced by the Lexington with no loss save 19 wounded. Our boats destroyed the pontoon bridge by which Marmaduke crossed the river. He was joined on this side by Price.

Kirby Smith was at Little Rock. The rebels are reported to be fortifying Bayou Meta, 50 miles this side of Little Rock, with the intention of making a stand at that place.

New York, August 24.—Money easy at 6 @7 per cent. Gold unsettled—opening at 24¼, declining to 23¾ and closing at 23⅞. Government stocks firm and unchanged.

The Herald's special says Lee has been receiving reinforcements for the past two weeks, and is evidently preparing to attack us. Our scouts report the enemy making up their campaign which contemplates a movement similar to that of August 1st. Deserters corroborate this news.

Newbern, August 22.—The rebel newspapers in this State clamor loudly for the suppression of the Raleigh Standard, the official paper, which of late bids defiance to Jeff. Davis and the destroyers of the Confederacy.

The Holton (Tenn.) Journal says, speaking of Bragg's army:

We don't know its strength, but taking its present status into consideration, with the well known adroitness and sagacity of his antagonist, Bragg will find his position hazardous and perplexing unless there is greater energy shown than now seems to exist. It is apparent that Rosecrans intends to flank both sides, and no doubt throw another division into East Tennessee by way of Sparta, and thus compel Bragg to fall back to Atlanta.

Fortress Monroe, Aug. 24.—The steamer Maple Leaf from off Charleston Aug. 20, has arrived. When she left, Sumter's guns were silenced. Several breaks had been made in the walls. There was no doubt that the rebels would soon abandon it. Monitors were close under the walls of Wagner, and by the aid of sharp-shooters the guns of the batteries were nearly silenced.

Memphis, Aug. 2[illegible].—The steamer City of Madison was blown up at Vicksburg, Wednesday, Aug 19, while loading with ammunition at the Levee. About 60 lives were lost. The explosion was caused by the careless handling of percussion shells by a laborer.

Second Dispatch.

Leavenworth, August 22.—From citizens of Lawrence, who have arrived for supplies, we gather the following particulars in regard to the burning of that city by Quantrell. The list of killed will number some 180, the majority of whom were killed instantly. The houses that remain standing are filled with the killed and wounded of all classes. From the ruins of the burned houses the charred remains of other victims were being taken. But one hotel was left standing. Quantrell spared that in consequence of having made it his home some years since without expense. But the proprietor was shot. A number who made no resistance were shot by the murderers. In one case the assassins drove twelve men into one house, shot them and burned the building. Several hundred of the inhabitants fled into the ravines for safety, but the fiends stood on the banks and fired into them, killing and wounding scores. Twenty-five negro recruits were shot. They took all the money that could be found in the pockets of the citizens or in the houses, and stole the ladies' jewelry, even to the rings on their fingers.

General Lane escaped on horseback, and afterward rallied 200 men, with their arms, followed and overtook Quantrell twelve miles south of Lawrence, where a fight occurred, the result of which is unknown. Quantrell is now retreating toward Missouri, burning everything on the route. It is not expected that he will be intercepted by our forces, and he will get away without serious loss. But little resistance was made at Lawrence. The citizens were shot down as they ran through the streets in their efforts to escape. Their bodies were thrown into the wells and cisterns.

A raid of this kind has been threatened by Quantrell, and the citizens had organized military companies for defense; but the late reports from Quantrell to the effect that he would not invade Kansas caused the abandonment of the organization, and the guerillas found the place entirely defenseless.

A large train left here to-day with supplies of clothing, provisions, etc., for the sufferers. The citizens of Leavenworth have opened their doors for all who choose to come.—Many have already availed themselves of these hospitalities. The feeling here is very bitter against the commander of the department for being so wholly unprepared to meet such an emergency. The Commander General was absent from headquarters and did not know of the invasion until the destruction of Lawrence was complete. Everything was then done to intercept Quantrell; but it was too late. Our State will now take the matter in her own hand. Colonel Jennison is about starting down the border with a sufficient force to whip any number of rebels that can be found, and if he is not interfered with by the department commander raids into Kansas will end with this one.

The men comprising Quantrell's force are principally of those bands of guerrillas who have been robbing and murdering along the border for the past six months with but little opposition. They have had ample time to prepare everything that would insure success. Two banks were robbed of everything. A third only escaped because the heat was so great that the rebels could not get at the vaults.

Leavenworth, August 25th.—Up to this morning, 123 bodies were buried at Lawrence. Many of them were so much disfigured as to prevent recognition. People are continually passing between this place and Lawrence, and their details of the scenes that occurred in the streets and houses of the doomed city are sickening and heart rending. The last accounts we have of Quantrell are to Saturday night, at which time he was being closely pursued by Lane, whose force was constantly increasing by the farmers who were flocking to him with arms. It is his determination to follow him into Missouri, and if the gang disbanded to hunt them down like wolves. One of them who was captured gave the names of 50 of the gang. They are people of Jackson county, who are well known and have always been considered good Union men. Well informed men at Lawrence are of the opinion that Quantrell's men are mainly composed of paroled prisoners from Pemberton's army, with some of Price's command, from the fact that they are much sunburned from being long in the service.

New York, August 25th.—Specials from Washington, this morning, contain little news. A Morris Island letter to the Herald says, the appearance of Fort Sumter is not unlike that presented by Fort Pulaski on the evening of the first day's fire. From 30 to 40 large holes could be seen on the face of the works. The barricades of bricks covering the magazines and sand traverses have been seriously damaged. Three days of such work will bring down Sumter on the heads of her defenders.

Fortress Monroe, August 24.—The Richmond Whig of the 21st says the loss of Vicksburg and failure at Gettysburg are the two events of the year which seem to render highly probable a long and almost interminable continuance of the war. Apart from the victories which we may achieve on the field, there are but two means of counteracting the baneful effects of these two events and bringing hostilities to an early close. These are events forcing intervention or a determined opposition by the conservative masses of the north to abolition faction which has control of the government at Washington. A long and protracted war will prove a great evil, wholly unmixed with good, for the longer the war continues the more thoroughly exasperated the Southern people would become with the whole Yankee race and Yankee institutions. We want the aid of France. We are able to pay for it. Let us do it. We shall then have peace, or a power to work swift revenge on our foul foe.

The Richmond Sentinel says, from the region of the Rappahannock their seems to be growing an expectation that a collision between the two armies is drawing near. All accounts concur in representing our (the rebel) army to be in the very best condition.

Fortress Monroe, Aug. 24.—Gov. Letcher has ordered the rebel General Assembly of Virginia, elected in May last, to meet at Richmond in extra session on Sept. 7, for the purpose of devising means for the public defenses. He says it will require extraordinary exertions on their part to meet the advancing large levies and additional Federal forces.

The steamer City of Richmond from off Charleston, Sunday noon, brings the following news: Fort Sumter's flag was shot away on Thursday. On Friday the bombardment was constantly kept up. The whole south end of the fort was demolished almost to the base. On Friday morning two breaches were discovered in Wagner. Gregg and other batteries fired at intervals. An expedition was being fitted out to silence the James Island batteries.

The Richmond Sentinel of to-day has the following: Important dispatches came from Charleston to the 22d. The fire of the enemies land batteries has been kept up on Sumter, and more guns have been disabled.—There is also a heavy fire against Wagner and Gregg from the fleet and land batteries. Gen. Gilmore's demand for the surrender of of Sumter and the Morris Island, with the threat to shell Charleston in four hours from the delivering of papers at Wagner, was received and returned this morning. Beauregard charges in reply inhumanity, and the violation of the laws of war against Gilmore, and says if repeated he will employ vigorous measures of retaliation. Up to this time the threat to shell the city has not been executed.

Charleston, August 23.—On Sunday 604 shots were fired at Sumter, 419 struck inside or out. The east wall is scaled and battered and the parapets under it ruined. The north-west wall and arches have fallen in.—The guns are all dismounted. The land batteries opened from the south and north on Sunday, the monitors on the east and west coming close in, the fire is very damaging.—The shot swept through the fort and the shells wounded several officers, including Col. Rhett, commanding. He is ordered to hold on until relieved, or the place taken.—Col. Gaylord of Wagner is killed and several are wounded. 23 vessels are inside the bar, including the Ironsides. Gen. Gilmore sent notice on Sunday that at 11 o'clock to-morrow he would open on Charleston. In the meantime all non-combatants could leave.

Chattanooga, August 22.—The Yankees commenced shelling Chattanooga yesterday without giving notice of their intentions.—All is quiet to-day.

Chicago, August 25.—Gold in New York this afternoon is 122.

Attention, Washington Guard.—The members of this Company will meet on Tuesday the 2d September, in Thompson's Building, No. 25 Washington street for Drill.

Providence School.—We would call attention to the advertisement of this institution located at Vancouver, and under control of the Sisters of Charity.

The First.—The first oysters of the season arrived on the Couch on Saturday evening, from Shoalwater Bay.

Theater.—On Saturday evening the thrilling and interesting drama was performed of the "Last Man; or, the Miser of Eltham Green." The old miser was portrayed by Mr. Waldron with splendid effect. The gradual fading away of memory, and the dying scene, was most artistically acted. The old maid was enacted by Miss Mitchell in a very harmonious manner, eliciting frequent outbursts of applause. The other characters were well rendered by the balance of the company. The whole concluded with the comedy of the "Honeymoon" in which Mortimer took the Duke Aranza with great success. The celebrated drama of the "Isle of St. Tropez" and the "Last Man" will be presented, this evening, constituting a splendid bill.

Singular Disappearance.—Mr. J. W. Moore, living one mile north west of Lebanon, left his residence on Monday afternoon, saying that he was going to a certain pile of drift-wood on the Santiam to hunt a cedar log suitable for making boards, since which time nothing has been heard of him. Some of the neighbors, on Monday night, thinking he had got lost, turned out and hunted and halloed through the Santiam bottoms all night, from Tuesday until yesterday (Friday) at 1 o'clock, when our informant left Lebanon, some forty or fifty men have been hunting for him. The pile of drift-wood, the densely timbered bottoms of the Santiam, and the deep holes of water in the river, have all been thoroughly searched, but no traces found of the missing man after he left his residence. His wife states that he appeared very sad when he left on Monday, and to her entreaty to remain at home and do some work on the farm that day, replied that he "would do that to-morrow, if alive." The general opinion is that he has committed suicide. Mr. M. was a much respected citizen in the neighborhood in which he lived.—Oregon Democrat.

Emancipation in Maryland.—The Baltimore correspondent of the N. Y. Evening Post, writing recently, says:

"The city legislative ticket is complete—it is thoroughly emancipation. You must not call it abolition, though, for fear of offending the nerves of timid people! Well, it is no matter. It is the instant extinction of slavery in Maryland that we are after, and we mean to have it.

Storage.—THE FIRE PROOF STONE WAREHOUSE, opposite Umatilla House, is the only building, "not made of wood," at the Dalles, where goods are taken on STORAGE. All other houses that take goods on storage are wooden buildings and in exposed parts of the town, liable to the risk of fire. The subscriber assures his patrons that his charges are but $1 50 per ton per month storage and although storage in wooden buildings is $1 00 per ton, yet the public cannot fail to perceive the advantages the subscriber possesses over other warehouses of this place.

READ, MOTHERS, READ!—How many a mother has waked up at MIDNIGHT AND FOUND HER CHILD BREATHING HARD, ATTENDED WITH PECULIAR WHISTLING OR BARKING COUGH, which would be relieved by the use of DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM, and repay, a thousand times the cost, by having it once in time of need, to give relief to the struggling child? Then why delay in procuring a remedy for such a sudden disease, which is CARRYING OFF THOUSANDS OF OUR CHILDREN EVERY YEAR!

DENTAL CARDS.—Certificates received by Dr. W. KOEHLER from his former places of residence:

This recommendation is due Dr. W. KOEHLER, a Practical Dentist, for his skill, thorough professional attainments, and complete knowledge of the science of Dentistry. I cheerfully recommend Dr. Koehler to all who may need or desire his professional services. J. S. TITUS, M. D.

Placervill May 4th, 1859.

I have known Dr. KOEHLER as a practicing Dentist in this place for some time past. He is thoroughly versed in his profession, and I would cordially recommend him to those desirous of obtaining the services of an educated and skillful Dentist. JOHN COOKE, M. D.

Placerville, May 5th, 1859.

MOKELUMNE HILL, August 30, 1860.

Having had occasion to employ several operators to construct a set of artificial teeth for me, but without having derived any benefit from them, I at last consulted Dr. W. KOEHLER, to whom I gave my case for another trial. He made me a full set of teeth, which I am now wearing with all the comfort and satisfaction desired and I would recommend him to all in need of the services of a skillful dentist. W. McFADDEN, M. D.

☞ In Every Age of the World. the professions have been slow to admit the value of new discoveries, or the expediency of adopting them in practice. It is not to the legal profession that we look for reforms in jurisprudence, neither do we find the advocates of medical reform among physicians. Each deprecates whatever is found to innovate upon received opinions and established usage. Hence the opposition which medical men too often exhibit to the use of private remedies, whatever their acknowledged value, or great efficiency in the cure of disease. No medicine has ever done more for the relief of human suffering than DR. OSGOOD'S INDIA CHOLAGOGUE. The certainty with which it cures Fever and Ague, and eradicates bile from the system is acknowledged by all. Do you prefer a speedy and effectual cure to a regular and scientific run of disease? Try the Cholagogue, and the effect is accomplished. Then tell your suffering neighbor what it has done for you, that it may do the same for him.

How Guerrilla Morgan Got 300 Horses.

[From the Louisville Democrat.]

John Morgan is as good at playing a joke sometimes as he is at horse stealing, and the following incident will prove that on this occasion he did a little of both at the same time: During his celebrated tour through Indiana he, with about three hundred and fifty guerrillas, took occasion to pay a visit to a little town hard by, while the main body were "marching on." Dashing suddenly into the little 'burg,' he found about three hundred home guards, each having a good horse tied to the fence—the men standing about in groups, awaiting orders from their aged captain, who looked as if he had seen the shady side of some 60 years. The Hoosier boys looked at the men with astonishment, while the captain went up to one of the party and asked: "Whose company is this?"

"Woolford's cavalry," said the reb.

"What! Kentucky boys? We're glad to see you, boys. Where's Woolford?"

"There he sits," said a ragged, rough reb, pointing to Morgan, who was sitting sideways upon his horse.

The captain walked up to Woolford (as he and all thought) and saluted him: "Captain, how are you?"

"Bully! How are you? What are you going to do with all these men and horses?" Morgan looked about.

"Well, you see, that d—d horse-thieving John Morgan is in this part of the country with a passel of cut-throats and thieves, and between you and I, if he comes up this way, captain, we'll give him the best we've got in the shop."

"He's hard to catch; we've been after him for fourteen days, and can't see him at all," said Morgan good humoredly.

"Ef our bosses would stand fire we'd be all right."

"Won't they stand?"

"No, Captain Woolford. S'pose while you're restin', you and your company put your saddles on our hosses and go through a little evolution or two, by way of a lesson to our boys. I'm told you are a hoss on the drill."

And the only man Morgan is afraid of, Woolford, (as it were,) alighted and ordered "his boys" to dismount, as he wanted to show the Hoosier boys how to give Morgan a warm reception should he chance to pay them a visit. This delighted the Hoosier boys, so they went to work and assisted the men to tie their old, weary, worn-out horses to the fences, and place their saddles on the backs of their fresh horses, which was soon done, and the men were in their saddles drawn up in line and ready for the word. The boys were highly elated at the idea of having their "pet horses" trained for them by Woolford and his men, and more so to think that they would stand fire ever afterwards.

The old captain advanced, and walking up to Woolford, (as he thought,) said: "Captain, are you all right now?" Woolford rode up one side of the column and down the other, when he moved to the front, took off his hat, paused, and said: "Now, captain, I am ready; if you and your gallant men wish to witness an evolution which you perhaps have never seen, form a line on each side of the road, and watch us closely as we pass." The captain did as he was directed. A lot of ladies were present on the occasion, and all was as silent as a maiden's sigh.

"Are you ready?"

"All right, Woolford," shouted the captain.

"Forward!" shouted Morgan, as the whole column rushed through the crowd with lightning speed, amid the shouts and huzzahs of every one present—some leading a horse or two as they went, leaving their frail tenements of horse flesh tied to the fences, to be provided for by the citizens. It soon became whispered about that it was John Morgan and his gang, and there is not a man in the town who will "own up" that he was gulled out of a horse. The company disbanded that night, though the captain holds the horses as prisoners of war, and awaits an exchange.

JEFF. DAVIS TAKEN TO TASK FOR HIS APPOINTMENT OF BAD GENERALS.—Looking to the results of the President's appointments, says the Richmond Examiner, we beg respectfully to ask what pre-eminent ability and integrity were exhibited in the following instances:

Trans-Potomac Lovell, (who, unless misrepresented, lectured to New York audiences on the art of war until after the battle of Manassas,) to the command of New Orleans.

Pennsylvania Pemberton (who gave up Cole's Island, which enabled the enemy to obtain his present foothold at Charleston and advised the demolition of Forts Sumter and Moultrie,) to the command of Vicksburg.

The President's brother-in-law, Richard Taylor, (who, until the present affair at Brashear City, the facts of which are imperfectly known, had done comparatively nothing,) to a major-generalship.

His relative, Samuel Jones, (who had never led a regiment into action,) to a major-generalship.

His favorite, Heth, (who had done nothing, over Price, who had done more with his means than any man in the service,) to a major-generalship—an appointment actually made, but denied, and only changed to a brigadier's commission after three months' resistance by the Senate.

The substitution of the dashing but injudicious and unlucky Van Dorn in place of Heth, as major-general, over Price.

The appointment of George Crittenden, twice dismissed from the United States army, as major general over the heroic and capable Zollicoffer.

The displacement, by means of an unworthy trick of Beauregard by Bragg.

The substitution of G. W. Smith by Elzey.

The appointment of Holmes, deemed incompetent as major-general in Lee's army, to lieutenant-general, commanding the Department of Arkansas.

The persistent detention in command of Hindman, against the earnest expostulation of the Arkansas delegation to Congress.

Finally the appointment (at this late day, when disasters which have shaken the country to its centre have befallen so many of his favorites) of a man who has never exhibited capacity, but rather the reverse, to the post of Lieutenant-General of Mississippi, the point of all others where most capacity is needed.

To which of these appointments will the advocate of a dictatorship point in proof of the unerring wisdom and impeachability of character, his lack of partiality, and capacity of inspiring public confidence? If to Lovell, there is the fall of New Orleans to be accounted for. If to Pemberton, the loss of Vicksburg, and possibly of Charleston, must be justified. If to Taylor, Banks' successes, including the fall of Port Hudson must be explained. If to Jones, nothing must be said on either side, except that the net result of nothing is nothing to the credit of a General or his appointer. If to Heth, the disgraceful defeat at Lewisburg looms up.

INDUCED by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters (purely vegetable), hosts of ignorant Quacks and unscrupulous adventurers have opened upon suffering humanity the flood-gates of nostrums in the shape of poor Whisky, vilely compounded with injurious drugs and christened Tonics, Stomachics and Bitters.

Beware of the innumerable array of Alcoholic preparations in plethoric bottles and big bellied kegs, under the modest appellation of Bitters, which instead of curing, only aggravate disease, and leave the disappointed sufferer in despair.

From Rev. J. Newton Brown, D. D., Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects; I yet know of no sufficient reasons why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, Esq., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them, when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief, and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them.

J. NEWTON BR
PHILADELPHIA, June 23, 1861.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whiskey or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of Bitters has caused, and will continue to cause, as long as they can be sold, hundreds to die the death of the drunkard. By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death.

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters, we publish the following receipt. Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whiskey, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market, and will cost much less. You will have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor, at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION, SOLDIER

AND THE FRIENDS OF SOL

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S German Bitters" will cure nine-tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters:"

PHILADELPHIA, August 2

Messrs. Jones & Evans.—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R. B. Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the steamer State of Maine, from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as any one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and, accordingly, the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr. Frederick Steinbron, of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me, as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months: for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours, ISAAC MALO

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Malone, restored to life.
